

Recommended by Switzerland Tourism

Real sustainability and true values - a distinction for the Landvogthaus

Everything which is called today „sustainability“ and „true values“ was just evident for the the generation who had built the Landvogthaus in the 16th century: To live in harmony with nature, the world in the mountains and the seasons.

As proud owners and custodians for a time we are honourably obliged to maintain the Landvogthaus as a building of national importance for the future generations by living the values of sustainability.

Historical baroque garden of regional importance. Biological variety with ancient sorts of berries and fruits, wild flowers, planting based on a self-regulating method

Unique and marvellous viewpoint in the Glarus Valley

Food & beverage in natural organic quality

Recreational area free from WiFi for time travellers who want to recover from the daily electromagnetic emissions. A quality which is invaluable these days and guarantees peaceable sleep.

Our wastewater is free from synthetic and chemical substances since we use only environmental cleaning material.

